Gary True practices in the areas of estate planning and business law. He received his LL.M. in Taxation from Washington University, his J.D., summa cum laude, from St. Louis University, and formerly practiced as a CPA. Gary provides practical solutions to complex business and tax problems and opportunities faced by privately-owned companies, business owners, and other individuals. Gary helps individuals provide for their families and protect their businesses in ways consistent with their values and goals.

He advises them on issues such as business succession planning, protecting assets in the event of lawsuit or divorce, providing for family members with special needs, and many others. Gary's business law practice includes company acquisition or formation, legal issues faced in the day-to-day operations of a business, and planning for disposition by sale, merger, gift or bequest. Gary was recognized in 2008 as a Five Star: Best in Client Satisfaction Wealth Manager in the area of estate planning.
